SURF AIR WINS ASSOCIATION FOR CORPORATE GROWTH'S 2016 BUSINESS INNOVATION AWARD

Surf Air, the nation's first all-you-can-fly private air travel club, has been named this year's winner of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Association for Corporate Growth's Business Innovation Award.

The award was presented to Jeff Potter, CEO of Surf Air, at the 6th annual ceremony on Thursday, May 12 at the Walt Disney Concert Hall. Following a year of rapid expansion for the first-of-its-kind membership club, this prestigious award recognizes Surf Air as a company with an innovative business model that has changed the landscape of its industry.

"On behalf of the team of professionals at Surf Air and the membership community we serve, we are proud to have received an award that celebrates our continued growth and innovation in the travel industry," said CEO Jeff Potter. "We also love to see how our members' businesses are positively impacted through our unlimited monthly flights—facilitating their growth and helping propel their businesses forward."

Since 2013, Surf Air has been serving California business and leisure travel members with unlimited private flights, and has grown to offer 90 daily flights in 12 destinations throughout California including San Francisco Bay Area, Los Angeles Metro Area, Santa Barbara, Truckee/Lake Tahoe, Napa, Monterey, Sacramento, Palm Springs and Las Vegas, (operated in partnership with Advanced Air).

Each year, ACG LA honors eight exceptional companies in the Los Angeles region with awards including Business Innovation, IPO of the Year, Private Company Growth, Mayor's Award, Social Impact, Green Award, Strategic Acquisition and Founders Award.
