SURF AIR TO OFFER “ALL-YOU-CAN-FLY” MEMBERSHIP SERVICE TO SACRAMENTO BEGINNING AUGUST 24

Airline Sells First Corporate Membership to Sacramento Kings

(Sacramento, Calif.) –August 11, 2015 – Surf Air, the nation’s first subscription-based private airline, announced today it will begin daily service from Sacramento’s McClellan Airfield (MCC) to the Los Angeles basin and Santa Barbara starting on August 24. The company, which offers a convenient and cost effective way for members to travel without commercial airline hassles or long security lines, has been rapidly expanding its service throughout California over the last year. Sacramento marks the ninth destination for the company and a key piece of Surf Air’s regional access map.

“Sacramento is the largest population center in California not yet served by Surf Air and a nucleus for commerce and government industry, making it vitally important to our existing membership who travel regularly for business,” said CEO of Surf Air, Jeff Potter. “In addition, it is a hub for activity and sports and we are thrilled to partner with the beloved Sacramento Kings right out of the gate.”

Surf Air has sold its first corporate membership to the Sacramento Kings, which will be used by the executive team.

“We welcome Surf Air to the Sacramento community,” said Sacramento Kings President Chris Granger. “Convenient air travel to commerce hubs throughout California will help support our local entrepreneurs and drive more business interest and tourism to the Sacramento region.”

Surf Air will offer two daily weekday non-stops from Sacramento’s McClellan Airfield and one daily non-stop on weekends to LA’s Hawthorne Airport (HHR), as well as one daily non-stop to Santa Barbara Airport (SBA) for a total of 19 flights weekly. The inaugural flight will depart at 6:15am PT from Sacramento, bound for Hawthorne, with a first return flight to the McClellan Terminal at 10:30am PT.

Surf Air will host a private launch event on Wednesday, August 19 at McClellan Airfield to celebrate the start of service in Sacramento and welcome area members and prospects. Attendees will be able to tour Surf Air’s PC-12 aircraft and enjoy entertainment, food and wine. The Sacramento Kings Dance Team will also be attending the event to celebrate the partnership.

Having recently expanded to Napa and Monterey, with the addition of Sacramento Surf Air will now serve nine markets with 80 peak daily departures throughout California.
